Family Homeless As Kiantone Farm House Destroyed By Flames

Defective Chimney Is Believed To Have Been Cause of Blaze Thursday; Little Time Left To Save Furniture

KIANTONE—Fire, believed to have been caused by a defective chimney, completely destroyed the frame farm home of Carl Anderson, Prosser Hill road, about 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning. The Frewsburg Fire department was summoned but the flames had spread so rapidly that the house was a seething mass of flame when the firemen arrived and lack of water prevented them from doing anything more than protect the barns and other smaller buildings nearby.

Norman Durnell and family tenants in part of the house, discovered the flames coming from Mr. Anderson's portion of the house and at the time of discovery they had spread so much that they were unable to save anything but a few small articles of furniture.

Mr. Durnell, who has been ill for nearly a year, was notified by one of his small children that smoke was coming from the Anderson part of the house and he attempted to get in to investigate but the doors were locked. He ran out doors and saw the flames shooting from the roof near the chimney. He ran back into the house and rescued the children and the flames spread so rapidly that he was hardly able to enter the house again.

Mr. Anderson, with his brother, James, lived in the rear part of the house. He could not be reached at the time of the fire and did not know anything about it until his return later in the day. It is believed that a small amount of insurance was carried on the building.

Besides losing the greater part of their furniture, Mr. and Mrs. Durnell also lost about 85 bushels of potatoes, just recently placed in the cellar of the home. Their loss on furniture and clothing was estimated at about $500.

Fall Wedding Is Performed At R. C. Church

Miss Rose Constantine Is Bride Of Samuel L. Dispenza

FALCONER—Miss Rose Marie Constantine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Constantine, Cross Street, Jamestown, and Samuel Louis Dispenza, 41 Central Avenue, were married Saturday morning at Our Lady of Loretto Church. Rev. A. J. Bernardo performed the ceremony while Mrs. Harry Vincent played the organ. The altar was attractively decorated with flowers and candles.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Miss Anna Dispenza, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor and Anthony Constantine, brother of the bride, was best man.

The bride was gowned in white satin with a long train and high neckline trimmed with seed pearls. Her tulle veil with a long train was topped with orange blossoms. She wore white satin sandals and carried a bouquet of white roses and baby's breath. The maid of honor wore a delphinium blue taffeta gown made with a full skirt with bustle bows and short puffed sleeves trimmed with maroon velvet bows. Her head band was of maroon velvet flowers. She wore maroon sandals and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. The attendants were remembered with appropriate gifts from the bride and bridegroom.

Immediately following the ceremony, breakfast was served at the Dispenza home with about a hundred friends and relatives attending. About forty were present for the reception and dinner which also was held at the Dispenza home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dispenza left for a wedding trip, to be home on Winsor Street, Jamestown after November 12.

THOUSANDS OF GALLONS OF GASOLINE SPILLED AS BIG TRUCK IS WRECKED

KIANTONE — A large semi-trailer truck, heavily loaded with gasoline, went into the ditch near the Halladay farm, Peck Settlement road, early last Saturday morning. The large vehicle turned over and the cargo of gasoline was almost a total loss. The accident occurred before daylight when the driver, whose name was not learned, lost control as a result of the failure of the headlights.

According to reports of those nearby, the driver was going north toward Falconer when the lights went out and the heavy machine went into the ditch before the driver could reach an auxiliary switch to turn on the fog lights, which were on a different circuit.

After daylight the truck and trailer were righted in the highway and moved to a safe distance away from the spilled gasoline. The gasoline was then set afire and tremendous black clouds of smoke rolled into the heavens, attracting persons from considerable distance away. Those in charge, however, prevented anyone from stopping near the scene as a precaution against an explosion.

The truck sustained considerable damage.

Poland Center Woman Has Narrow Escape In Accident On Route 17

FALCONER—A narrow escape from very serious injury was experienced by Mrs. Maude Rounds, 54 years old, Poland Center, about 1:45 o'clock Monday afternoon when she drove her car from in front of her home directly into the path of an automobile being driven by John C. MacGill, 25 years old, of Baltimore, Md. The accident occurred on Route 17.

MacGill, an employe of the Coco Cola company, driving a company car, stated that the Rounds woman drove directly across the highway in front of his car. The Rounds car, a small coupe, was so badly smashed that there is little salvage. Mrs. Rounds suffered a severe laceration over the left eye, severe bruises and shock.

She was removed to the WCA hospital in Jamestown by the Boyd ambulance. Mr. MacGill was uninjured but suffered some from shock. The motor of the Rounds machine was pushed sideways by the force of the impact and glass from the windshield and head light was scattered for considerable distance.

Deputy Sheriff Arthur Wheelock investigate the matter. He repored that MacGill was driving east along Route 17 and had no chance to avoid the other car as it came upon the highway. The Coca Cola vehicle was a business coupe and not a truck as was reported in the daily papers.

Goat Owners Hold Annual Dinner Meet

County Association Has Affair At Celoron Legion Hall

The third annual banquet of the Chautauqua Dairy Goat Association was held Monday evening at the American Legion club rooms on the Lakewood Road a Jackson avenue. The dinner was served by the Ladies of the Auxiliary of the Herman Kent Post of Celoron. No formal program was arranged for the banquet as the regular meeting followed. However, short informal talks were given by various members of the organization, and by the guest speaker, Arthur E. Payne.

The regular meeting was called to order by the President, Clayton Casler, with about forty members and friends present.

Reports were given by members who attended the New York State Dairy Goat Association annual meeting at Geneva on October 15. A committee composed of Aver Carlson, R. O. Field and Mrs. Emmett Dorman was appointed to decide matters concerning publishing the State paper in the Jamestown territory.

R. O. Field was appointed general chairman of the goat exhibit to be held in conjunction with the Chautauqua Poultry and Pet Stock Show in Jamestown in January. Mrs. Emmett Dorman was appointed chairman of the candy committee for the show. Mr. Field will name his other cooperating committees later.

The association ordered a shipment of goat milk cheese from Brookings, Oregon, and several members have purchased their supply of this product thru the association.

Two new members were admitted to membership in the association: Mr. and Mrs. Wakely of Ripley, N.Y.

The next meeting will be held on December 4th.

Members attending were as follows:

Falconer Young Man Injured In Football Play at Silver Creek

FALCONER— Falconers scrappy Lambs, semi-professional football team, went down to defeat last Sunday at Silver Creek when they played the Silver Creek semi-pros in that village. The final score was 13 to 0. Both markers for the winning team were accounted for the touchdown pass combination of Wooler to DeLury, one from the 20-yard line and the other from the 12-yard line.

The one extra point resulted from a pass from Wooler to Locker. Two injuries marred an otherwise perfect game. Rosetti, left tackle for the Lambs, sustained a broken ankle with but four minutes left to play in the second half. DeLury of the Silver Creekers suffered a four-stitch cut on the arm, which will prevent him from playing in the Silver Creek-Hamburg game next Sunday.

Blaise Rosetti, the injured player, lives at 3 Alberta street, this village. Medical examination revealed that he had sustained a dislocation of his left ankle and the farcture of a bone in his foot. The injured man was taken by ambulance to the Silver Creek hospital, where the injured foot was placed in a cast. He was removed to his home here Tuesday.

The story of the play concerns the experiences of 12 passengers on a bus. James Brown Defeats Lawrence Anderson In Highway Supt. Contest

Local Option Is Defeated By Two To One Majority; Present Plan Of Justices To Be Retained; G.O.P. Score Heavy in County

FALCONER—Unusual off-year activity was experienced in last Tuesdays election when, in many communities of Chautauqua County, record votes were cast. In the Town of Ellicott, Supervisor Guy B. Saxton was again elected to tht office and James L. Brown, Highway Superintendent, defeated Lawrence E. Anderson.

One of the important issues before the voters was local option, which did not carry. The vote for four questions on local option was better than two to one gainst. Only one town in Chautauqua County, North Harmony, voted dry.

Another important proposition before the voters of Ellicott was the proposal to name two councilmen and two justices instead of the usual four justices. This proposition was defeated and Ellicott will keep the same justice system as in the past. Considerable effort was directed toward the defeat of the proposition in the Town of Ellicott due to the unusual geographical set-up of the town, which, with only two justices, would create a hardship and additional expense in handling justice cases.

The vote for the various candidates of Ellicott and the various propositions, including the vote for Sheriff, is as follows:

TOWN COUNCILMEN
For, 836 — Against, 1,160.

TEN MORE QUESTIONS, TEN MORE WINNERS IN FREE MOVIE CONTEST

FALCONER — Free tickets to the State heater are still in demand, as is evidenced by the growing number of entries in our weekly contest. When we say entries are increasing, we really mean it, for this week they reached a new high. While we are not trying to make any of the questions too hard we had one in last week that was perhaps just a little too difficult for the average person.

The question we refer to is that where we asked where in Falconer you might purchase Gaines Kruncheons. The correct answer is "The Falconer Milling company." The item in question is a dog food. Some of the contestants mistook this item for a tidbit obtainable a she local restaurants. Perhaps they are tasty for your pet pog but for human consumption they are not to be too heartily recommended.

This week's questions, not too hard, are as follows:

1—What was "Proposition No. 1" in the Ellicott Town Election? (Just identify it. Do not give it in detail).

2—What business is the Town of Ellicott Supervisor engaged in?

3—Who operates the Frewsburg Hardware?

4—Write a word that contains more esses (s) than the word "Possesses."

5—What advertiser is a member of the Radio Servicemen of America, Inc.?

Ten free passes, one each, go to the following winners of last week's contest:

1. Ted Lindstedt, Post Office, Falconer.
2. Vincent Ognibene, 428 W. Everett St., Falconer.
3. Joe DiMaio, 311 W. Main St., Falconer.
4. Joe Muscarella, 17 W. Elmwood, Falconer.
5. Charles Jambliter, 17 S. Work St, Falconer.
6. Margaret Giarusso, 105 Lister St., Falconer.
7. Isabell Stratton, 4 Alberta St., Falconer.
8. Albert Stratton, 4 Albert St., Falconer.
9. Lebo Muscarella, 17 W. Elmwood, Falconer.
10. Madelon VanTilburg, R.D. 1, Falconer.

Razzberries and Hash
By ROY B. NEWELL

Woman's place may be in the home all right, but in our modern family life this is too much like solitary confinement.

They've got a golf course out in Los Angeles which is very difficult to play on account of the number of tame deer which wander around. It's hard for a poor golfer to pass the buck on that course.

A man down in an eastern city dropped dead in a taxicab the other day. Maybe a Scotchman watching the meter.

Electric trains for the youngsters will be equipped this Yuletide with new gadgets and safety devices. This will assure an even happier Christmas day for fathers and uncles all over the land.

American Airlines will serve turkey on their planes every Thursday throughout November. A clever way of getting around this Thanksgiving uncertainty.

Ladies — did you ever notice how many new wrinkles there are for getting rid of the old ones?

39% of all our divorces occur during the first four years of married life. This is strange, because that hardly seems like time enough to save up for the trip to Reno.

Statistics show that the average farmer walks 26 miles a day, a letter carrier 22, and a policeman 14. Add 'em up, and double it, and you have the nightly average for the father of the new baby.

OUR POLICY

We are politically independent and our editorial policy will be that of trying to uphold and further any movement that will be beneficial to the communities we serve. Our columns are always open to our readers and we urge all to consider this your paper.

ANOTHER ELECTION

Election Day has passed on and many communities will have an entire new set of officers. The towns of Ellicott and Carroll are indeed fortunate in having the officers that they have and many of them will carry over for another term. On the other hand, Jamestown, our big brother, has made a definite gesture against its present administration and elected the entire Roberts ticket.

In Ellicott as in Poland, Randolph and various other towns, there was the proposition of local option, which, with one exception, went wet. While we do not care to delve into the merits of the cases, it was very evident that the people were not of the opinion that the town should throw out liquor.

In the Town of Kiantone the Republicans made another sweeping victory and showed some of the strength that that party formerly showed in years past. While Kiantone has, on occasions, gone Democratic, the preponderance of votes have been, as a general rule, for the Republicans.

The race for Sheriff, between Roy L. Chadwick, present sheriff, and Supervisor W. Laverne Nuttall, was indeed a close one and Sheriff Chadwick will continue in office for another term of three years. His opponent is to be congratulated on the splendid showing he made and, had the Democratic nominee, Albert A. Shepherd, withdrawn earlier in the race, Mr. Nuttall might have presented an entirely different fight.

In the Town of Ellicott, Supervisor Guy B. Saxton will again hold office and in Carroll Supervisor Allan F. Cass is again the choice of the voters. Both men have served their respective towns well and it is quite apparent that both Republicans and Democrats were satisfied with their records.

EDITORIAL BRIEFS

We were recently interested in the report of a citizen that the Village Board is entirely disregarding the wishes of the public in the contemplated plans for making the Community Building assembly hall into office space for those offices necessary to remove following the sale of the Administration Building. While it is entirely against our principles to enter into any conflicts or differences of this sort, we are anxious to set that citizen and any others that may be intertested on the right track. The Village Board is entirely willing to listen to anyone who can present a suitable solution to the situation but they do want the solutions or complaints to come direct to them instead of to the "man on the street". They are obligated to furnish the office space and, on the other hand, the citizens are in some way deserving of a meeting place. Who has proper solution?

Tomorrow (Saturday) will mark the anniversary of the Armistice of the World War. The holiday is especially significant in the United States when the rest of the world, with the exception of a few countries, is pitched into another war. What will be the situation on Armistice Day in 1940? How splendid it would be if, in another year, the countries of the world could join hands in a perpetual Armistice, one that would insure future generations against the horrors of battle, caused by the desires of some few individuals.

The loss of their home by fire is a tragedy to any family but to have such an experience when the father and breadwinner, has been ill for many months and lose what little provisions were stored for the winter is indeed a real tragedy. Such was the experience of one family in Kiantone Thursday. The husband and father was driven into the cold practically from his bed and the only clothing he saved was the bathrobe and slippers he was wearing. This family, already on relief, would welcome, we know, donations of furniture, articles of clothing and anything that would help them in their hour of distress.

Mayor LaGuardia of New York will probably be calling certain of the New York City race track touts "Mr." in the near future for that was his prediction if the pari-mutuel betting was made legal in last Tuesday's election. He predicted that the passage of that amendment would give the same touts the guise of gentlemen and he would therefore have to call them "Mister". The amendment was passed by a large majority and already several large syndicates have announced plans for entering into the betting business on a big scale.

The picturization of "Drums Along the Mohawk", one of the better stories of Revolutionary War days, is an accomplishment that will probably, at least in New York State, show tremendous box-office receipts. The story is almost entirely about the happenings in this state with many thrilling experiences by a young married couple. Into the story the author, Walter Edmonds, has woven pathos and humor as well and the struggles of the newlyweds is typical of those experienced by the builders of our country. The picture, to live up to the story, must be excellent.

It is with regret that, following any election, people are bound to hear remarks against the losing candidates. It is one of the privileges of any American citizen to seek election to any public office and, just because he fails in that effort, is no reason that he is to be censored. Such remarks seem to be the rule instead of the exception following any election. Someone has to lose and, it has been known to happen, sometimes, the loser is the best man of the two. Why not simply congratulate the winner and at the same time compliment the loser for his interest in public welfare?

It is seldom that we hear of serious injuries to football players in this day of the more cagy type of game but when one of our own players is injured then it is forcibly called to our attention that perhaps the game has not become quite the "sissie" game that some would have us believe. Blaise Rosetti, 3 Alberta Street, this village, received a badly injured foot at Silver Creek last Sunday, one of the very few accidents that has come to our attention this season. The average player, however, is usually proud of such injuries, providing they are not too serious, and takes comfort in knowing that he gave his all for the "dear old team". At least we are getting away from the "knock 'em down, drag 'em out" type of game and the fewer the injuries the better for all concerned, spectators included.

Dish for this Week

Snappy fall evenings challenge homemakers to surprise their dishes that differ from those they families with hot meal-in-one have served the past summer. Carrots, stuffed with left-over meat, hit the spot with some families, and money is saved through use of economical carrots and rice. Here is a recipe suggested by the New York State College of Home Economics:

Stuffed Carrots

3 carrots
½ cup ground boiled ham
Salt
⅓ teaspoon of celery salt.
1 cup cooked rice
1 tablespoon of butter
Pepper
Buttered bread crumbs

Scrub the carrots thoroughly and cook them until they are tender. Remove the skins, cut off the root end and split the carrots in halves lengthwise. Combine the other ingredients and mix them thoroughly. Pile the stuffing on the carrot halves, sprinkle them with the buttered crumbs, and brown the carrots in a moderate oven (350-500 degrees Fahrenheit). Serve them with brown gravy or a cheese sauce.

With carrots stuffed with rice and ham, served with cheese sauce, the College suggests: graham muffins and grape jam, cabbage and green pepper salad, topped with whipped cream, (if desired), pumpkin pie, milk for the children, and coffee, tea or milk for the adults.

RAMBLING REPORTER

Well, how did the election turn out for you folks? We had things just as we expected them in our district an' I'll bet the old world will still keep right on turnin' around in spite of some of the disappointments that some folks encountered. Seems to be the result of any election—some one has always got to lose an' the other fellow's bound to win.

Now that election is off our minds again we can settle down to more routine matters an' quit worryin' about what the other fellow's goin' to do that might upset the apple cart. Speakin' about upsettin', there sure was a case of it last Monday when a fellow by the name of Willett (not Charlie) ran into a load of fertilizer that was being drawn by a team, an' the teamster, Elton Bush, sure did get upset.

S'pose that most any one can soothe their nerves if they think of the right remedy. For my part, me an' Ma is goin' to the Legion play, Mystery at Midnight, over to the High School tonight an' I'll bet that I won't be able to do much Saturday as they tell me there is so many funny parts in that show that my sides will be achin' from laughin'. We'll see.

Well, all I'll want to do Saturday is listen to a few football games anyway. Me an' the boy has been havin' a lot of fun seein' which one could pick the most winners in a whole bunch of college games. He won last Saturday an' I won the week before. 'Course I might have done better last week if I hadn't picked Michigan.

Beats all how some folks is always belittlin'. Here we have a newspaper right here in Falconer goin' to every home in the village an to all the rural box holders, an' some folks go right up town to put an ad in the paper. Seems to me they might better be sure of havin' their ad go into all the homes in their own town instead of only part of them. The cost is just about half too. Perhaps they just haven't got the habit yet. Well, as we grow, we hope they grow with us.

Speakin' about advertisin', I gave a talk on advertisin' at a banquet last Monday night an' those folks are really anxious to get their business before the public an' along the right lines. I have got to tell them, in addition to where an' how to get their product, why they should buy that particular product. Us folks usually know where to buy certain things but until we are convinced that there's a good reason why we should buy it then we just don't.

Jack Mainwaring, over at Frewsburg, was diggin' around in his barn the other day an' behind some of the partition boards he found some real old relics.

Among them was one of the old fashioned shot (not liquor) pouches, with plenty of little lead pellets inside. He also found a clay pipe an' some tobacco. The tax stamp on the tobacco was 1875 or 76. Ma's uncle, who is stayin' with us, smoked some of the tobacco in the clay pipe an' he said it was strong enough to hold up a sledge hammer in the smoke alone.

Say! Just happened to look at the calendar an' darned if it ain't pretty near time to start thinkin' about doin' some Christmas shoppin'. Didn't realize that the holidays was so close. Maybe I can beat most of them to the punch this year by sayin' right here: DO YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPIN' EARLY!

WOODLOTS MAY INCREASE IN VALUE TO FARMER IF WAR CONTINUES, IS CLAIM

If war in Europe continues for any length of time the person who owns a woodlot will probably have an economic advantage over the person who does not own one, says Floyd E. Carlson of the New York College of Forestry at Syracuse University, in Syracuse, N. Y. The war has caused an increase in the price of fuel, and it may reach still higher prices.

Professor Carlson says that until recent years more wood has been used for fuel in the United States than was used in any other form or for any other purpose. However, fuelwood has ranked second to lumber for about ten years, due chiefly to the development of more efficient devices for the use of other fuels.

He states that another reason for the decrease in the consumption of fuelwood is due to the fact that no outstanding improvement has been made in the efficiency of wood-burning stoves and furnaces but today both the Federal government and private industries are more alert than ever before to the need of better fuel devices and it is not improbable that in the next year or two, particularly if the war continues, new and more economical American-made wood-burning stoves and furnaces will be on the market.

Professor Carlson emphasizes the point that if prices do advance and the owner of a woodlot fails to harvest the firewood on his woodlot for his own use or for the market, he will pay a double penalty because he is going to lose the heating advantages of the wood, for the profits from it, and will run into increased expense for other fuel.

BUYING A FARM IS SERIOUS BUSINESS

"Investigate before investing is good advice, both in buying a farm and in other transactions.

"Farms in New York state are sold to several different types of buyers. Some go to persons with considerable recent farming experience, some to young men brought up on New York farms, some to city persons who have previously lived on farms, some to farmers from other sections of the country, and some to city persons without previous farm experience.

"Some purchasers desire a farm to earn a living; others, to supplement income from other sources," so says Howard S. Tyler of the New York State college of agriculture at Cornell University.

The importance of extreme care in selecting a farm cannot be overemphasized, he points out. A mistake is likely to be serious. It results commonly in years of wasted efforts and the loss of hard-earned savings.

"Many farmers who are struggling to make a living on poor farms would earn a satisfactory income if they were on good land. Others who have purchased poor farms have abandoned them after investing their savings and spending several years in an effort to make a living!"

"Look before you leap!" he recommends. Some of the more important points to consider in buying a farm, such as financing it, profits from different enterprises, and areas not adapted to farming, are given in the new Cornell bulletin E-412. Single copies may be had on request from the New York state college of agriculture at Ithaca, N. Y. They are free to New York State residents.

HAWKINS COW COMPLETES NEW OFFICIAL RECORD

PETERBOROUGH, N. H. — A new record, exceeding the average of the Guernsey breed for her age and class has just been completed by a two year old cow Silver - Forest Louise 559315 of Silver Creek, N. Y., tested and owned by L. A. Hawkins. Her official record, supervised by Cornell University and announced by The American Guernsey Cattle club is 10621.5 lbs. of milk and 529.4 pounds of butterfat in class GG.

'See America First'

The phrase, "See America First," came into use during the latter part of 1914 and was used extensively in 1914 and 1917 when European travel was cut off. The National Park service of the Interior department started the slogan, "See America First" for national parks, hotels and railroads. It is stated that Mr. W. A. Wadleigh, passenger traffic manager of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, originated the phrase in connection with this railroad.

It is not only in size and design that the modern coffee maker differs from its old type counterpart. The contrast is more evident in that the modern percolator is equipped with various mechanical devices which eliminate all the guesswork in preparing coffee. Not only does it measure with exactitude the amount being prepared but the cooking period is automatically governed and a timing device flashes red when the coffee is done.

Nuttall Carries Town Of Carroll In Sheriff Race; Cass Is Elected

Allen F. Cass Again Named As Supervisor With Republican Ticket Coasting In Without Democratic Opposition

FREWSBURG — With no local contests in last Tuesday's election all Republican candidates for offices in the Town of Carroll coasted to victory as the voters confined their excitement to the contest between Roy L. Chadwick and W. L. Nuttall for the office of Sheriff. Mr. Nuttal carried this town by a wide margin, polling a total of 372 votes against Chadwick's 158 votes.

The various other Republican candidates for county and state offices all received the majority vote of the town, the largest majority being cast for Ellen Yates Miller, who received 423 votes as compared with 45 votes for her Democratic opponent, Forrest S. Hart, both of whom were seeking the office of County Clerk.

Supervisor Allen F. Cass, who has served in that capacity for some time, was again returned to that office. Other officers re-elected were as follows: Town Clerk, Henry H. Kyle, Rep.; Justice of Peace, Ervin O. Long, Rep.; Town Councilman, Joseph C. Cox, Rep.; Assessor, Erie T. White, Rep.; Collector, Ralph L. Little Rep.; Highway Superintendent, Merle O. E. L. Danielson Opens New Gas Mart Saturday

New Service Station To Be Operated At Main and Institute

FREWSBURG— Saturday will mark the grand opening of the new Socony service station, which will be operated by Ernest L. Danielson, well known local resident. The station is located at the intersection of Main and Institute streets. The station has been erected with the ideas of modern servicing of autos and the opening will also include the display of at least two models of the 1940 Fords from the Chadakoin Motors, Inc., of Jamestown.

Mr. Danielson was formerly in the grocery business at South Main and Newland Avenue in Jamestown, where he remained until just a few weeks ago. He has a host of friends both in Frewsburg and Jamestown. Jamie Howard will be employed as attendant at the new station.

Edwin Johnson Burned When Gas Explodes In Mosher Street Home

FALCONER — Edwin Johnson of the Weeden Hardware Company was slightly burned Wednesday afternoon as a result of a gas explosion which occurred when he was connecting a kitchen stove with the gas line in a small house located in the rear of 16 East Mosher street.

Mr. Johnson states that he had finished making the connection and is at a loss to understand how the explosion occurred. A hot water heater was located in the bathroom adjoining the kitchen and the gas was burning under the heater at the time.

Following the explosion Mr. Johnson hurried to the basement of the house in front and turned off the gas at the meter, and then turned in a fire alarm from a nearby telephone.

The house, which is owned by the Bank of Jamestown, was being prepared for occupancy by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Proudman. Mr. Proudman stated that his loss will probably not exceed $240 on which there was no insurance.

The house was a small one-story frame structure with three rooms and a bath. The rear portion was badly damaged by the resulting fire.

John Baroth of the Canplenty good enough to give high honors for one man for three games.

In the B league high single game honors went to Joe Mason for the second consecutive week with a game of 187, one pin less than his high game last week. Erics knocked over 796 pins to take honors in the high single game for one team and also took high team three games, with a good total of 2342 sticks Continuing this we also note that Eric Gougen of the Service team had high three game total pins for one man, with 533 pins. Maybe this explains their jump into a first place tie.

Next week in the A league should see some hot matches when the Oil's and Aces meet, while the Bronze team will try to do themselves some good when they meet the Canteen's. The Deuces should better themselves at the expense of the Biltmore keglers.

In the B league there should be fireworks when the Bullfrogs sharers of first place take on the Sweets, who are one notch below, while the other claimant to first place, the Cake shop five meet an up and coming Service team. In the other match the Foreman and the Faculty will battle for the cellar position.

Frewsburg School Notes

By ALVERNA MAINWARING

The regular assembly period for the Frewsburg Junior and Senior High School pupils was held Friday, Nov. 3. A meeting of the Student Association was conducted by Donald Davis, President. James Cameron, freshman, announced a contest between the Junior and Senior high schools for securing student association dues. Mr. M. W. Brown, Principal, spoke on the purpose and use of the dues, and announced the closing of the contest with a membership party, Nov. 20, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Mr. Brown presented preliminary certificates earned last June to the following: Virginia Akin, Patricia Annis, Betty Atkins, DeForest Bennett, Orlo Bennett, Donald Berg, James Bova, Esther Boyle, Anna Bush, Edwin Classon, Glendine Curtis, Mildred Davis, Gertrude Dinsmoor, Florine Donelson, Francis Fairbanks, Eleanor Gustafson, Mariam Jacobson, Nancy Lou Kyle, Maxine Lawson, Edward MacKenzie, Wilbur Mara, Elizabeth Meleen, Julius Nordland, Robert Payne, Cecil Peters, Patricia Philips, Normal Ross, Gleason Sheldon, Verna Jean Stoddard, Phyllis Suckow, Robert Swanson, June Taylor, Alberta Walrod, Mary Warn.

Mr. Nordstrom of the Bank of Jamestown, the guest speaker, gave a most inspiring talk, "Huge Little Things."

The High School Operetta which is to be given the 17th and 18th of this month is coming into shape in a very promising manner. In fact, the chorus is quite eager for Friday and Saturday to roll around.

Ticket sales have started and the response by the townspeople is encouraging.

All in all, the chorus is looking for a successful outcome in this rather large undertaking—"Hearts and Blossoms."

The High School band is giving up their rehearsals in order that the chorus may have more time to practice on the operetta.

Thanksgiving Vacation will be held the 23rd and 24h in keeping with the Governor's proclamation.

A number of new books have been received for the school library.

SPORTS TOPICS

By Stan McConnell

Well, it looks as if perfection itself, isn't always good enough. A week ago, Doc Litkenhous had Michigan rated a hundred plus, but the Wolverines took the fall of the week when Illinois upset the dope bucket and hung a 16-7 defeat on them.

The Illini are apparently a bit touchy on the subject of proclaimed equals their immortal Red Grange. Red, you will remember, even if you aren't an alumnus of either of the two schools involved, ran Michigan ragged one Saturday afternoon back in his heyday at Illinois. Ardent supporters of Fritz Crisler's all-conquering machine had come to the point of comparing high-scoring Tom Harmon most favorably with the old Galloping Ghost. In fact, there were many who voiced the opinion that Tom would single-handedly run Coach Zuppke's winless outfit off the field, thereby showing them that the shoe would fit as well — or perhaps even better — on the other foot. But the best Harmon, good as he undoubtedly is, could do against an Illinois team that was battling for a tradition was to score a single touchdown, which wasn't enough to win the ball game — to say notaing of coming near equalling old Red's record of five touchdowns scored on that memorable afternoon back when.

Tenessee, meeting its third major opponent of the season, turned in a convincing 20-0 win over L. S. U. last Saturday, thereby boosting its stock considerably. Texas A. & M. swamped Arkansas 27-0 to keep its record intact. Cornell seemed to have some difficulty with a Columbia team that had previously lost close ones to Yale and Princeton and been tied by Army, but those who saw the game were satisfied that the Big Red might well have improved on the 13-7 victory over the Lions had Coach Snavely elected to use his somewhat tired regulars less sparingly. Notre Dame took the Army into camp 14-0 for the biggest winning margin of the season for the Irish. Southern Cal., tied in the opener by Oregon, shoved Oregon State out of the ranks of the undefeated 19-7, thereby partially solving one half of the Rose Bowl problem.

Yale used to have the "Indian sign" on Dartmouth's Green Indians, but times have changed. After the 38-0 shellacking the Hanoverians dished out to the Elis Saturday, Coach Ducky Pond announced that all but three of his boys who made such a woeful showing against the Big Green would be relegated to bench duty. Worst of all, he voiced the opinion that they weren't even trying. It's one thing to lose — but something else again when you don't even try to win.

We don't put too much faith in comparative scores in football —BUT — Salamanca beat Fredonia High by one touchdown, and Dunkirk High by two! And Illinois turned what started out to be its most dismal season in years into a real success, trimming what seemed to be a much more potent Michigan aggregation.

Crucifixion Of Christ Will Be Shown Here By Ladies' Aid Group

FALCONER—A talking motion picture utterly different from anything ever shown in this community will be presented in the High School auditorium on Tuesday evening, November 14, at 8:00 o'clock, under the sponsorship of First Methodist Ladies' Aid Society. The title of the picture is "GOLGOTHA," and is the first and only talking motion picture ever made of the life and crucifixion of Christ. "GOLGOTHA" presents the immortal story of Christ in a spectacular and impressive manner. Critics everywhere have acclaimed it the greatest talking picture of its kind ever made. A complete set of the finest talking motion picture equipment will be brought here for the showing of the film. This equipment includes special projector, a complete sound system, and a modern screen.

The average feature picture made in Hollywood costs approximately $200,000, but "GOLGOTHA" costs $800,000 or four times more. This will give you some idea of the size and magnitude of this great picture. The casts, costumes and settings make it one of the greatest scenic dramas ever filmed. "Golgotha" was made in the old country, consequently the scenic backgrounds are accurate and correct in every detail. However, all the speaking parts in this picture are in English.

HELLO FOLKS!

Didn't intend to write anything this week but here's a good one that I couldn't let go by.

Rumblin' Reporter ran for office Tuesday and got beat by about 4 to 1. Guess that will hold him in his place for a while.

I see where that Byrd feller is going to have a snow cruiser down in the Antarctic. Wonder if they have repair shops every little ways down there. If they don't he is going to have some hard luck, judging from the way it operates here.

The PRINTER'S DEVIL

Elton Bush Injured As Auto Strikes Wagon

FALCONER — For the second time within about three hours, an accident occurred Monday afternoon on Route 17, east of this village. About 4:30 o'clock that day an automobile, being driven by John Willett, Levant, collided with a wagon at the intersection of the Kennedy road and Hartson road.

Injuries to both legs were sustained by Elton Bush, who was on the wagon. The impact caused the team, driven by Bush, to tun away and the entire load of fertilizer they were drawing was spilled about the pavement.

Bush was removed to his home where he was attended by Dr. Eugene Collin of this village. Dr. Collin reported no fractures but stated that both Bush's legs were badly bruised and he suffered considerably from shock.

The accident was investigated by State Troopers Hemmer and Stevens of the Westfield barracks. The wagon was badly damaged and the front right headlight and fender of the Willett coach were ruined. Willett received a laceration on his nose. No arrest was made.

Elmwood Church Has Anniversary Services

FALCONER — The 47th anniversary of the founding of Elmwood Avenue Methodist church was observed at a service held Sunday afternoon with the pastor, Rev. O. J. Lundberg, presiding who also gave a sketch of the history of the church. Rev. R. W. Neathery made the opening prayer.

J. Emil Anderson welcomed the congregation and presented the charter members. A social hour followed the program. During the morning service Dr. H. H. Barr, district superintendent, delivered the message on "My Church."

Special music was furnished by the church choir which sang, "One Thing Have I Desired" by Wildmere.

CHILDREN SIGHT DEER

LEVANT—The children of the district school were given a rare treat Tuesday noon when 5 deer were seen in a pasture in the rear of the Wesleyan church across the highway from the school. The animals seemed as much interested in the children as the children were in them. They remained in the pasture for about 10 minutes and then proceeded over the hill to the north.

Mrs. Allene Graham, teacher in the Levant school, and her family spent the week end in Philadelphia inspecting points of interest.
