I am very sorry that I cannot write you a longer letter than this. I am very busy with my work and must close for this time. I will write you again when I have time.
 I am your friend and will be glad to hear from you again.

to you. I have just read a letter from Coover. He says of Marie "I have earned her a thousand francs over, and need to earn more to justify it." I fear more of I have such for her. My thought is different - I have not earned your cost - and I do expect to be a thousand francs employed to win your love. My little picture may have
