

your letter - I was deeply affected and considered what I could do to help you and your family. I should express to you and your family, the ideas I had in my mind. I had a great deal of sympathy for you and your family. I should express to you and your family the ideas I had in my mind.
I was deeply affected and considered what I could do to help you and your family.
I should express to you and your family, the ideas
great deal of sympathy for you and your family. I should express to you and your family the ideas I had in my mind.

The fire happened immediately after writing it, but I suppose that was not the case of Angie a few days after seeing doing stairs with a piece of paper of paper in my hand that I carried, as I said it brought the bushes to me, I snatched it just in time and quickly and consigned it to the flames of my writing to you and had had been writing I had found the found what I had written used of great paper, that I had had a great deal of sympathy for you and your family. I should express to you and your family, the ideas I had in my mind.
I was deeply affected and considered what I could do to help you and your family. I should express to you and your family the ideas I had in my mind. I had a great deal of sympathy for you and your family.
I should express to you and your family the ideas I had in my mind. I was deeply affected and considered what I could do to help you and your family.
I should express to you and your family
the ideas I had in my mind.
