

At a meeting of the

Upsilon Chapter of Psi Upsilon Fraternity the following resolutions were adopted —

Whereas, It has pleased an Almighty Providence to remove by death our brother

George Washington Moughtin

Resolved, That in the death of our brother we have experienced a loss, our sense of which can find in words no adequate expression. As a Society, and as individuals, we mourn the loss of his active intellect—his charmed life—the genial glow of his sympathy—and, above all, the quiet influence of his Christian character.

Resolved, That while we sorrow with his stricken friends the short-ened existence of our brother, we accept the consolation of the religion which he professed, and find in the cherished memory of his virtues the highest hopes of our own and a new impetus to duty.

Resolved, That in memory of our brother we wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

Resolved, That we transmit copies of these resolutions to the friends of the deceased, and to the several Chapters of the Fraternity.

THOMAS GEORGE HARRINGTON, Secretary.

October 1888

I have just clipped off the other half of this sheet that I might mislose you. It is your precious copy of the resolution passed by our chapter on the death of our brother. He was one of the dearest our brother and we did indeed feel sad when the days of our brother's death came to us. You must be a strong & I now, my dear, and whenever you see its badge - a large silver gold breast-pin, filled with black enamel with the clasped hands across the middle in gold - and the letter G above and I below you may know him to be who wears it to be brother of mine, and great honor as such to the Order. We have no worthier badge among us but are brothers as though the fire of bright eyes that sparkle still brighter at the light of the old G & I badge for the known to a warm, loving, sunny heart. I had never seen you at any institution. I happened to be in company with some when they called for a speech against and you were present. I certainly know that you were present and they laughed in all the world and I hope you will be a great blessing to our Order.
