Monday Morning

My dear Husband.

I have been trying to get Sis to write for me but she won't be coaxed. I am still in undress and in bed. The Dr said I must not sit up any till my feet were better so I just have to lie on bed all the time with my feet propped up on a pillow. The Dr seems quite puzzled about it. Thinks it may be neuralgia. My arm was very bad for a day or so but is almost well now.

I think Darling that it is going to be quite impossible for me to go North while you are there. I don't think a month will see me able to walk many steps without assistance. I don't get strength very fast when I have to lie in bed all the time. So my Dear you ~~must~~ <sup>will</sup> have to get the nice things for me you had set your

It dont seem to me to be policy to get farmers' things there unless you send them back by Mr Lewis or get them very much cheaper so as to make up for the Express. I hope he can have them pretty soon for he is getting very restless to get away.

Father is down sick again and if this letter reaches you before Mr Lewis leaves send him a couple of bottles of Hostetter. There will be clean done without them. If you send anything by Express and have not had chance to send the medicine, send it then.
I have written all this lying down and it has tired me all out.

Mum have goes with this scrawl to my dear Husband - Emillie sends love I wish you could get her a white dress while you are gone
