

Raleigh N.C.
March 13th/68

My dear wife: I wrote to you yesterday once or twice a few words. Your letter was received ~~yesterday~~ ^{this morning}. What do you mean by saying that your merits are dis-custed at the hotel table? I am afraid that Kilmer's tongue is a little too loose and he is ~~afraid~~ ^{addicted} to blabbing, and it may be sometimes draws the long bow. I am sorry you are so lonely and would come home tomorrow night if I could be spared. I expect we shall adjourn on Tuesday or Wednesday next. I may come up tomorrow but cannot be certain. I do not expect to have any time to spend at home after the Convention is over for some time. Keep as good heart as you can and do not be discouraged.
I will try and console you when I come

Yours Truly
Husband
