

HON. ALBION W. TOURGEE,

LATE JUDGE OF THE SUPERIOR COURT OF NORTH CAROLINA

HENRY CHURTON,

The Author of "Tofnette" and other literary and professional works.

WILL LECTURE DURING THE COMING SEASON (1875-6)

UPON THE FOLLOWING SUBJECTS:

I.—"THE BEN ADHEMITE ERA."

II.—"THE NEXT CRUSADE."

III.—"OUT OF THE STRONG—SWEETNESS."

IV.—"SOUTHERN HUMOR."

V.—"TO-DAY, IN ACCOUNT WITH YESTERDAY."

The following are some of the endorsements elicited by the announcement of this fact. Attention is invited to the character and standing of the men making these communications:

From DR. M. B. ANDERSON, Pres't Univ. of Rochester, N. Y.

"I am glad to learn that Judge Tourgee has consented to lecture, and earnestly recommend committees who may be filling their lists to secure him for their course. He is a fine scholar, of broad and varied experience and keen observation, distinguished both in his profession and in literature, a magnetic and forcible speaker, accustomed to the control of large audiences, and possessing a remarkable power of lighting up the gravest discussion with the play and sparkle of illustrative humor. He only requires to be heard, to be counted one of our most brilliant and attractive popular lecturers."

FROM BISHOP M. SIMPSON (M. E. Church), Phila.

"A lecture from Judge A. A. Tourgee, of North Carolina, could not fail to be both interesting and instructive. He is a gentleman of culture, great energy of character and originality of thought, and of the highest reputation as a popular orator."

From JUDGE W. B. RODMAN, Supreme Court of North Carolina.

"Judge Tourgee is a speaker of wonderful force and clearness, interesting and instructive upon any subject he may choose to discuss."

From BISHOP I. W. WILEY, M. E. Church, Boston, Mass.

"Hon. A. A. Tourgee is a man of such originality of conception, such broad and varied culture, such marked success as a writer and effective power as a speaker, that he is certain to stand high as a lecturer. I confidently commend him to those seeking entertainment and instruction combined."

From EX-GOV. HOLDEN, of North Carolina.

"I know of no one better fitted for the lecture platform than Judge Tourgee. An original thinker, a close student, and a keen observer; an able writer, and an impressive and experienced public speaker,—he is sure to be appreciated highly in his new capacity by an enlightened and Christian public."

From HON. R. P. DICK, Judge U. S. District Court.

"I am pleased to learn that Judge Tourgee is to enter the lecture field. He is admirably qualified for that class of intellectual labor. His originality of thought, rich literary attainments, forcible and brilliant style and delivery, are sure guarantees of entertainment and instruction to those who may hear him."

From EX U. S. SENATOR GEN. JOS. C. ABBOTT, Wilmington, N. C.

"Every one who has heard Judge Tourgee at the bar or on the stump will be glad to know that he has consented to appear on the lyceum platform. I have no wish to disparage him as a writer, but it is only when before an appreciative audience that he appears at anything like his best. The most vivid delineations of character which he has given, such as Manuel Hunter and Betty Certain, are cold and dull beside the impersonations which crowd his oratorical displays."

From HON. THOMAS SETTLE, Associate Justice Supreme Court, N. C.

"It is but 'carrying coals to Newcastle' to commend Judge Tourgee as a lecturer. An orator who has won the first place as an advocate and political speaker at a bar and on a stump long noted for forensic displays, and a writer of acknowledged force and ability, could not fail of success as a writer. 'The Ben Adhemite Era,' which I had the pleasure of hearing at its first delivery, fully sustains the reputation which he has achieved in other fields."

As MR. TOURGEE'S professional engagements allow him but a limited time for lecturing, it is impossible for an agent to arrange his course. Committees should correspond with him personally, and at once, in order to secure engagements.

Address,

HON. A. W. TOURGEE,
'Greensboro', N. C.

TOINETTE:

A TALE OF TRANSITION.

By HENRY CHURTON

(Hon. A. W. Tourgee, of North Carolina.)

THE recent announcement that this already popular work is from the pen of one so competent to delineate what he has had such rare opportunity for observing as JUDGE ALBION W. TOURGEE, late of the Superior Court of North Carolina (where the scenes so vividly portrayed in "Toinette" are laid), has given a new interest to its pages, and still further stimulates the general desire to peruse this elegant romance. A Southern journal remarks of it, "The education of no one is complete until he has read Toinette."

To be had of any Bookseller, or will be mailed, post-paid, on receipt of the price ($1.50) by

J. B. FORD & CO., Publishers,
New York City.

OPINIONS.

- "A very unique novel,"—Journal and Courier (Portsmouth, N. H.)
- "A tale of powerful interest."—Erie (Pa.) Gazette.
- "A vividly written romance."—New Orleans Times.
- "The story is simply but well told."—N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.
- "There is not a prosy chapter in the book."—Liberal Christian (N. Y.)
- "Really a story of power."—New Haven (Conn.) Palladium.
- "Absolutely thrilling is some of its situations and delineations."—Chicago Evening Journal.
- "It seems like a resurrection from a buried era."—Newark (N. J.) Courier.
- "The characters seem rather portraits than creations."—Christian Union.
- "Its picture of life are vivid and instructive."—United Presbyterian (Philadelphia).
- "The style is marked by care and taste."—Arcadian (N. Y.)
- "The workings of the human heart under strong passions are dissected with a master hand."—Contributor (Boston, Mass.)
- "It is one of the books that reflect national life, admirably written and put forth in excellent shape."—N. Y. Evening Mail.
- "Evidently written by one thoroughly familiar with Southern society."—Literary World (Boston, Mass.)
- "It deals with the social aspect and effect of slavery, and gives the Southern side of the Rebellion."—Cultivator and Gentleman (Albany, N. Y.)
- "The story is told fearlessly and fully. The characters are well drawn and the style is animated."—Worcester (Mass.) Spy.
- "A faithful, unprejudiced picture of Southern society during the last two decades."—Valley Times (Hornellsville, N. Y.)
- "A book descriptive of Southern life as it was and is, written with greater power than Uncle Tom's Cabin, and with as grand a purpose."—Correspondence of the Examiner and Chronicle (N. Y.)
- "Altogether superior to any novel which has appeared for a long time."—The Critic (Gallatin, Tenn.)
- "An earnest, sad, simple story. The characters are real flesh and blood, who truthfully represent Southern life, manners and habits of thought."—Christian Era (Boston, Mass.)
- "A story which holds the reader with absorbing interest to the close."—Northampton (Mass.) Journal.
- "It is fascinating, thrilling, and its scenes are vivid as the lightning."—Methodist Advocate (Atlanta, Ga.)