My Darling...

Your of Tuesday night with Joe's came last night and yours of Thursday to night. The E. P. was late and I only rec'd it a little while ago. I have been to church with Mrs Hoff and Mrs Chubb. They are having meetings every night in all the churches in the city, trying to get up a revival. The meeting to night was very pleasant and a good deal of interest displayed. Mrs Cranston is a great help in a revival effort I should think. She made such a beautiful prayer to night. She seems so saintly. I should look for winey to be folded somewhere around ready to plume for flight. I stopped and got the mail on our way home.

I am dreadfully tired to night and don't feel as though I ought to write much, though I have plenty to say. I was out all the forenoon looking at furniture and in the afternoon looking for houses and with the meeting to night I feel quite done out. I was surprised to find furniture so cheap I do not at all advise getting any in New York. Everything can be gotten here from the best to the poorest at very reasonable rates.

The house question is not so satisfactory. I found nothing in any way to my mind I wish we could buy. It would be much more satisfactory. ⁽²⁾ I found several very desirable places for sale.

Your letter was in the Times to night Mr. Woodbury seemed much pleased with it, I was sorry it got so bungled up in the setting up. Mr. Th. said he was so very busy that he could not read the proof. I told him if he had sent it up to me I would have made it right. I will have a chat with him about your plan soon.

There was a letter from David Hay in last night which I meant to send but have mislaid it. He has just read F. E. and it was his opinion that it was Joe's letter characteristic.

I am so tired Darling I must go to bed. Cordie is the healthiest she has ever been since we came here. seems perfectly well. Do my nicely in Petite Cousines as in the other studies.

God bless you
