

Hon. W. S. J. J. J.
27 Park Place
New York City

Mr Boyd has news you in and you have you went away. She is sick again - how we Madge informs me of today. I don't believe I shall go up to see
Mr Gilds, Mc Bullah
and "Eggs" and "La" I don't know how they are. - I hope to hear from you to night morning.

I received a letter from Catherine which came last night. Lodie is dead this morning and feels very well except the mumps which I think she has coming on. Both sides of her neck are swollen and she can hardly swallow.
Mr & Mrs Crown spent the evening here last evening and Mrs B. said the mumps was around and I doubt not Lodie has them.

I send you our first bill of fare. The cooking was poor this morning, but there was some excuse for it as everything is in such an unsettled state and there is such bad feelings between the subvers and meowlers that these ~~two hands~~ ~~do~~ all they can to embarrass the new ones and there was ~~turning~~ ~~generally~~ He have a sweet pretty little black eyed girl at our table I felt so sorry for the old waiters ~~now~~ remains. Mr Oty goes.

I had a letter from Sammie this morning telling of your visit there I am so glad you stopped. I had a nice long letter from Mrs Julia Quade also. She said they had both much enjoyed reading yours ~~and~~ books. The Fool's Errand has been universally read in C. — They are going up to Mr Browns on Monday to spend a number of days of London is well enough. Mr Woodbury said you the Times when it has anything about the Fool's Errand in it.
