"A Story-teller's Story."

THE most unique, attractive and fascinating of platform entertainments. Judge Tourget is one of the most widely known and most generally read of living authors. 500,000 copies of his works have been sold in this country, and they have been translated into almost every language of Continental Europe. The story of these volumes, with the reading of striking passages from them, and now and then a peep into some unpublished work, and a fund of interesting anecdote expertly told, makes this lecture-reading an entertainment which no one who hears will ever forget.

My dear wife:

This is the first time I have had a moment to write to you when I was able to write anything that would not give you pain or be a palpable evasion. I have told you no doubt that I made a perfect failure the first night — the fault, decidedly, mine, I never could make. Because of this I had a poor house the second night and financially we did not get to nothing.

I am satisfied with the results however, as we got through and I fully re-deemed myself the second night.

I think I can manage it now and believe we shall do well.

I have but a moment before taking the train and think I shall have to see some parties whose cards have just come in. Have just seen Matthews who is full of "Caesar". He thinks the syphilitic will never make the human syphilitic disease will carry them off. Told him if white superiority could only be maintained by syphilis we had better go under - was very sorry to hear of your men er but but fixed it -
And bless you love
Albin
