My dear Judge

I see that you and Mr Clark do not agree on the form of your specifications & claims; I don't hesitate for a moment to consult with the inventor, any one else in the matter, or do any thing necessary to get to the form you think is the best.

I have always found Mr. Clark's ideas to be very good in such matters, and where I have had no work in the courts they have always stood the test.
But you much more than an ordinary inventor and the way in which your ideas are expressed should be entirely satisfactory to you.

The more I have seen of your invention, the better I am inclined to like it, and I hope it will be a great necessity. If you have discovered the manner of the future ^{the value} ~~it~~, and if it is of great value.

Yours truly

Wm. Logan
