Madam I was in the Methodists burial ground a few days ago and I found your father headstone falling down and broke in two pieces about the center and I think damaged some at the base I think the wind had something to do in it for we had a hard wind that day it blowed one over in the new cemetery I notice it was leaning some and while I was gone to my dinner it fell down there came a hard puff of wind about that time, I suppose you have heard of the death of my wife and Harry and a small one all close together I have three small children I left me is all. You dont have charge of them

Yours Truly Respected
