Dear Cousin,

Yrs 1st. duly recd. I went at once to see McClure and he promised positively that he would pay the amount in a week. I will see him again when the week is up, and it may be that I will get it. My present advice to you however is not to depend positively on getting it for you may be disappointed. They have a nice office, small but business looking and the chap seemed to be worried when he was talking to me. Said he had been away for two months and just returned and that the reason it had not been paid before was the difficulty in making their collections.

I will advise you at once when I have anything further from him. His week is up next thursday

Excuse me for not writing before.

Yrs affly.

Edwin Ford.
