

2730

THE POWERS HOTEL

BUCK & SANGER,

PROPRIETORS.

ABSOLUTELY FIRE PROOF

Rochester, N.Y. June 14 1887.

My dear Judge:

I met Col. Fred. Grant - the other day and at the end of a long chat he said he wished he could find the right man to write a political life of his father - or rather the political side of that life; if he could he would do all that he could to assist, ^{would} and furnish a cord of documents etc. etc. - I said there was one man in the country who could do it as it should be done - A. W. Tangle -

"Just the man" - said the Colonel - "I have had some conversation with Geo. Russell Young, he went on 'but I think matters could be satisfactorily explained if Judge Tangle would take it up. Put him in communication with me."

I shall be glad to hear from him at ~~the~~
#3 East-66th - at N.Y.C."

This was the nub of the chest -
I hope it will strike you favorably - It would mean fame and fortune for you I feel sure -

I am on a flying business trip throughout the state - but go backwards from here - I had hoped until now to be able to go on to Mayville and see you all - as well as to tell you of the Grant matter - But business unfortunately prevents - I expect to make N.Y.C.
by the end of the week - and Washington early next week - If present plans remain unchanged I will stay in Washⁱⁿ till July 15th then I anticipate for the summer until Sept-1st - and back to the capital for the winter - I shall hope to make Mayville
a late in August for a brief visit -

Love to Mrs Tongue and all at Thorheim -
I am still waiting for that long letter of yours - All well at home -

As ever, faithfully,
W. O. B.