

Editorial Rooms

The Tribune-Republican,

DAILY AND WEEKLY.

W. R. ANDREWS, Editor.

Meadville, Pa., August 23 1887.

My dear Judge

The Cleveland Leader, of yesterday, is commenting upon an article headed
"A Striking Parcel" and the language: "The article on this page entitled a Striking Parcel, is from the pen of a Republican is an admirable sketch; when reputation in politics and literature is national, and men more than national" I know of no

Meadville, Pa.,

1887.

other Republican in the County who could have written the article but yourself, and laboring under the impression I desire to congratulate you upon your position.
 The article is timely and is the right sort of medicine for the Republican party.
 It clearly and forcibly expresses my own opinion and I have reproduced a portion of it, with comments, as you will observe ~~from~~ by examining