

FORDS, HOWARD, & HULBERT, PUBLISHERS,
No. 27 Park Place.

NEW YORK, Sept 9 1887

My dear Mr Tongie,

I send you today a set of pages 3-46, for your reference file. But since seeing Butler's Inn (which came this morning, thank you!) we have decided to "check it," and make the matter cover more pages, so as to be a $\frac{1}{2}$ instead of a $\frac{1}{4}$ book. That means that the pages must be smaller, and entirely changed as to spacing (between words) and leading (between lines). We have this morning given orders to that end, so that while the matter (about 60 pp in all) now in type is being over run, there will be no need proof. As soon as the matter run up is ready in the new form a complete set of proofs will be sent you; and then you'd better destroy this present set,
