Sept. 20-1887

My dear Mrs. Towner.

I received a letter from you today alike creditable to your heart and head, but I must tell you that I do not think the judge would do a dishonorable act, nor have I ever thought so, I never doubted there was some explanation of the other works and that explanation is in your letter, as for Mr. Matthews I do not think he has ever thought the judge intended to be dishonest, he has pondered at the matter explained by your letter, he has felt that the judge did not see things as he did, as he does, but he is too intelligent to expect everyone to think and see as he does, as a business man he of course looks after his money; but I believe him to be what he has always been so far, strictly honest, wishing you all well, and you and the judge prosperity in abundance, truly your friend.
