HENRY WARD BEECHER'S WEEKLY LETTERS.

Sept 22/07

Dr Sir: Your favor of Sept 20 duly recd and contents duly noted.

We would certainly have no objection to your placing a serial. In fact when you have one ready kindly let us know. We would not care however to conduct a series of letters while you had other letters or short articles running at the same time.

Furthermore the way the market is deluged with syndicate matter at the present time demands great care in making new engagements and we would not care to definitely close with you until we have come to some understanding with Mr Roe, whose wife is still too ill to allow him to attend to the matter.

In regard to a special article:
We have Oct 9, not definitely promised to any author in our series yet and if you care to let us have an article ^{for $50.} on the subject I mentioned of 1300 (not more than 1400) words ~~we~~ will for that date we will send an offer on the subject and let you know our decision within a week from that date, independent of Mr. Ross. In the mean time you have the privilege of making other arrangements except during the week ending Oct 16. This is I think an exceedingly fair proposition.

Should you care to do this it would be necessary for me to have you Sept 28 as we have to reach San Francisco. The article should be written in the first person and not in the form of an interview.

Kindly let me know whether I shall keep the date open for you.

Yours most truly

Chas. Brown Ed.
