FEMALE COLLEGE.

Kent's Hill, Me., Oct. 6, 1887.

Hon. A. W. Fougere,

Dear sir,

You will have no reason to know me, though I cherish the memory of a conversation with you at Albany in May 1883, at the Semi-centennial of Psi Upsilon. You will pardon my referring to it, I know, on the principle that a Psi U. has the privilege of addressing or "gripping" the hand of a brother Psi U.

I write at this time, at the request of the ladies' literary society, to ask you whether you can engage to lecture to our school. It is our custom to have several lectures during the term, generally under the auspices of these literary societies.

We can be reached by train from Boston in 7 hours. Leaving Boston at 9 A.M. you can get here at 4 P.M.

We have a school of 200 young men and women, whom you can greatly help by talking to them. Will you come, and if so, what will be the expense to the young ladies?

Hoping some such arrangement can be made, I am

Very respectfully,

Yours,

B. O. W. Litch.
