

OUR DAY.

A MONTHLY RECORD AND REVIEW OF CURRENT REFORM.

Conducted by Joseph Cook, Miss Frances E. Willard, Prof. E. James, Ph. D., Prof. L. T. Townsend, D. D., Anthony Comstock, Ex-Pres. Cyrus Hamlin, D.D., and the Rev. W. F. Crafts, with the co-operation of eminent specialists in reform at home and abroad, and including the

BOSTON MONDAY LECTURES.

Single copies, 25 cents. Yearly subscription, $2.50; Ministers and Students, $2.00, invariably in advance. Discount of 10 per cent. to clubs of ten or more. Back numbers and bound volumes supplied.

ROBERT H. WASHBURNE, Business Agent.

One gets more out of this Magazine for the money than from any other published in the country. It is a magazine that no thinking person can afford to do without, and presents the subjects to which the newspapers give scant attention. It is edited from conviction.—Boston Herald.

I cannot think of a more useful periodical in the country, and certainly there is none more able and brilliant.—HENRY W. BLAIR, U. S. Senate.

The craft you have launched is wisely modeled, staunchly built, ably officered, and headed toward the right port. Bon voyage.—PRES. W. F. WARREN, D. D., LL. D., Boston University.

Liberal without laxity, catholic yet conservative, radical and revolutionary, yet free from fanaticism and vagaries. . . . The most vigorous and vivacious journal of the time.—REV. ARTHUR T. PIERSON, D. D., Editor Missionary Review.

Its specialty is the specialties. The ability of the editorship will insure its continued success.—Boston Daily Advertiser.

I read OUR DAY regularly, and regard it as one of the most useful of the American Magazines. It represents as no other Review does the serious side of American life.—W. T. STEAD, Pall Mall Gazette, (London.)

Address OUR DAY PUBLISHING CO.,

28 Beacon Street, Boston, Mass.

October 30/'90.

Judge A.W. Tourgee,
Mayville, New York.

Your favor of the 26th. inst. is duly received.

Mr. Cook is in the far West, so it may be some days before you hear from him.

Very truly yours,

R. H. Washburne,

Scip