Dear Mr. Sawyer,

I want to thank you for some kind words in letter to hand. Coming from such a source they are of value & I assure they are appreciated. I have not been in the habit of publishing as many papers as, words of praise received from our readers, but it has occurred to me that there will be a general extent of your letter inserted with a heading to, please showing it as some private criticisms concerning what a religious paper should be. I think unless you send back objections I will do so. The present time is indeed the same period in each period of history. It is now to be met. I hope it will have a more able & noble man as our editor.

Yours truly
H. S. Harrison
