

My dear Most:

I think the answers should be amended - not meaning to reflect on your pleading but because in so intricate a matter no one can get complete information in a single interview and I think it also well to add some defenses which have become clearer in my mind with further thought.

I send herewith copies embracing my ideas which I would like you to consider and adopt if you deem advisable - understanding always that I submit myself entirely to your advice suggesting only because of fuller knowledge and greater chance for elaboration.

I send attached to this letter brief answers of the answers suggested for your convenience as I know how troublesome it is to have to read in whole pleading to get its gist.

I call your attention, especially to the 3d, 4th and 5th defenses in my answers and the 2d, 3d, 5th and 6th of Mrs. Loung's. Two of them perhaps three of them were embraced in the former answer but not made distinct defenses. It seems to me that being in view where an answer has to take the cover it would be well to state them separately as each constitutes a complete defense - if they are good, that is.

I would have had their report in duplicate ready to see but I understand nothing about the folio business which I am you employ. You can ~~write~~ ^{write} them on information and belief or return to us and we will verify them as you choose.

I suppose you will have no trouble in getting him to amend if you make of affidavit for such small application today or tomorrow as he has signed a statement in the "One One" Trust Publishing Company which has until October 30 to answer and you are required that such cooperation with artist is necessary as there can be no delay occasioned by your application. You can always as soon of application in suspension in light of instructions and fuller information.

I should suppose that make such amendments you would be allowed to amend without terms.

It was my intention to come home and see you but this week has been too crowded to permit me to do so. I shall try to write you about another matter in a few days.

Yours truly,
