

National House Wis.
Jan'y 21. 1891

A. W. Tourque
Dr. Sir.

Your notes on the late action of the senate are worthy of a place beside the portrait of Lincoln in every Republican home in the land.

You refer to the old assertion, that the northern states sold their slaves south, and then abolished slavery. I think the census of 1790 and the four decades following dis-prove the charge.

One of the Fools of Brewster.
Ten years South. Geo. K. 33. Ill.