Judge Tourge -

Your kind letter received last night. I fully appreciate the situation, and pray God to open the way for the most full and free scope of the powers of his faithful messenger. In the midst of all the discouragements the living God will defend the right, I see his hand over this Nation - it may again rest heavily upon it - but the right must prevail in the end.

My doubts are no less than yours - ~~as to~~ - as to the action of the American people upon the issue I have sprung, but I decided that it would help to agitate and keep the question before the public, in the

the right light, if it did no other good; therefore I willingly contribute so much to the cause of humanity. I did the best I could alone. There is plenty of money, if the idea can be made popular and respectable - even most Christian people are more influenced by that weakness in human nature, than any real desire to serve God. While at the City I visited books stores, looking for Morrall Eastman, and from the regretful complaints for not being able to supply the demand, I conclude that the book is in great demand.

We order it & an other, of the publisher today. If M^r Drimley has not a copy of the Report, and if you will send me yours, I will pay all expenses, take the best care of it and return it within two (2) days after receiving it.

Very sincerely yours

J. T. Robinson
