Dear Sir:-

Your secretary's letter of the 28th. ult, is at hand, and I am very much surprised at its contents, for last Summer you wrote us that our sample service was very superior to any service you ever had received, and since that time we have greatly improved our facilities and scope of service.

Notwithstanding your order to discontinue, we shall continue to clip for you, holding the items until the end of the month-sending them to you in bulk, when you will have the opportunity to compare the service with the service you are now receiving from others.

It is not so much a question of dollars and cents as it is a matter of pride with us. Of course, we make no charge for this service, you having cancelled your order.

Yours truly,

Dictated.
