

Mayville N. Y.

March 10., 1891.

My dear Nixon; Don't you think you had better telegraph for me to come and talk things over.

You know I want to do it unless you do and I can show you just how you can "make your Jack"
without ~~any~~ ^{unusually} expenditure, but you will have to make my Jack for me at the same time and if you want somebody else will. It is a chance not likely to come again and which I have not been revolving for two years without having gotten the best out of it - that is possible and considered about all the objections that can be raised.

Our plans are now complete — a good deal better than when I wrote you, and will keep on improving as we work out.

I go to New York on the 18th inst and must be prepared to speak definitely then. I want to start from California ~~on~~ the first of April and go to Spain and Italy in June and Central America in the fall.
I shall expect my work to be done by April 1892. While a part of what Mr. Bumerop will have more especially in charge will be ready to print on the first of Jan. 1892.

It is a big thing - bigger for you than for any one else — but big and profitable any how, because of his application, unusual interest and impossibility to counterfeit.

Yours truly

W. D. Lowry, Jr.
