

DANIEL RUSSELL.
President.

E. H. GOSS.
Treasurer.

Melrose Savings Bank

Melrose, Mass. March 20 1891

Judge H. W. Bourgee.
Mayville, N. Y.
Dear Sir:

I wish to thank you for the pleasure I have had in the reading of your "Murore Eastman." Aside from the story which is interesting, you have voiced clear cut ideas concerning a "Christian Socialist," and embodied many words of wisdom in a most pleasant way. Like Dickens, you have, in all your books, some distinct subject, a purpose to set forth and illustrate, as well as a story to tell. And this you do in a most admirable manner.

I hope you will add still others to your most excellent list of solid works. Very timely are some of your sentiments, pp. 214, and 534, for instance, and many another.

As I read I am apt to notice typographical errors, and I enclose a few I notice, for the benefit of the next, I hope, inevitable edition.

With best wishes, I remain,

Truly yours,
E. H. G.

P.S. You have appeared twice in our Nelson Lyceum, on which occasions I had the pleasure of handing you a check.

E. H. G.

Page 215, line 12 - fearful
" 434 last line & The were
" 530 ~~in~~ ~~the~~ ~~name~~
" 410, 11-13 50, 535 - it's women
seem that the names
Stearns and Searle
are somewhat con-
mingled.