

FORD BROTHERS,
+Artistic Job Printing.+
United Bank Building.

Sioux City, Iowa, March, 30, 1891

Mr. Albion W. Tourgee, Mayville, N.C.;

Dear Sir:— I have read several of your works with interest, especially "The Fool's Errand" and "Murrah Costman". In the last mentioned, several passages indicate that you see the great social and political reforms that must soon come to avert a crisis.

FORD BROTHERS,
+Artistic Job Printing.+
United Bank Building.

Sioux City, Iowa,

189

Plans intended to accomplish this reform are numerous. The best, in my judgement, proposed so far is that of Mr. Henry George of N.Y. — The Single Tax. If you have not already done so, let me beg of you to carefully read "Progress and Poverty" and the platform of the Single Tax League of the U.S. adopted in N.Y. last September. See Standard, 42 University Place N.Y. Yours, Very Respectfully
James A. Ford.