My dear Judge,

Yrs 2-3rd recd and I am real sorry to hear of Mrs. T's continued and serious illness. Also to hear such a discouraging report from Jodie, and can somewhat sympathize with you because wife who was not well when you visited us has been getting worse since and is now sick in bed,

I ran down to the office for an hour or two yesty and have been here little over an hour now and am off home soon as I write a letter or two. Doctor was in this morning and says she must keep absolutely quiet and do nothing in the shape of work around the house, all of which is quite interesting for each of us when we have no servant and dont seem to be able to get one not even a bad one. I scoured Newark yesty couldnt find one. We have both been anxious to hear how Mrs. T. progressed and while we are glad to know she is no worse regret to know that she is so ill.

When you can please drag me a line if only a p.c. to say how they progress.

Your letter on the subject of flag poles duly received but have not had a chance to chew on it yet. Meantime had an order for 650, 8, 10 & 12 foot ones for Decoration day & 4th July trade.

Hope your next will contain better news of the family generally and pleased to know that the trip to Newark did not kill you. It worried me mightily.

Yrs Hastily,
