From S. M. Burroughs Snow Hill London

Dear Sir. How I have hoped that some ready & sympathetic writer ^{would} tell in a novel the Story of the Social life of the day; clearly depicting the stupid prejudice and ignorance which maintain the present unjust system of wealth distribution. The honest & industrious are likely to be ever poor as long as their unchristian traditions blind them to the glorious truths of Scripture which reveal the goodness of God in his equal provision for the wants of all mankind. The right to take the profit of the earth for all is it not the cause of 90% of poverty & crime.

Will you tell the story of the poor?

and you write
