

The * New * Era.

44 EXCHANGE ALLEY.

JOHN L. MINOR,
Editor and Manager.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 11 1891

Judge A. W. Tawjee,
Mayville, N.Y.

Dear Sir;

I enclose clipping from the New Era of yesterday. The reprint from the Shreveport Times may be of service to you in your efforts toward securing for the Negro the rights he is entitled to as a man and a citizen.

It may be of interest to you to know that while the editor of the Times objects so forcibly to Negros in sleeping cars or in eating stations, that in the City of Shreveport no objection is made to the Negro's presence in bar rooms and that the editor of the Times if he happened to enter such a resort.

The * New * Era.

44 EXCHANGE ALLEY.

JOHN L. MINOR,
Editor and Manager.

New Orleans, La., 189

would be served alongside the colored man if one had entered before or after his entry. The same glasses are used, etc.

Your articles in the Inter-Ocean are attracting wide-spread attention among the colored people and I have taken the liberty of reprinting the same with a view of placing them before a greater number of colored people.

Very truly,
J. L. Minor