PARADISE ROAD,

NORTHAMPTON, MASS.,

Dec 19, 1891,

My dear Judge Fargie:

You've got me. I can't help but feel it my duty to let my name stand. If at any time you can secure a more active support from some one whose name you consider as effective as you are so kind as to consider mine, I trust you will at once put him in my place. I mention count me one of the Administrative Council to which you have elected me

Yours truly
J. W. Lable
