

5880

The Inter Ocean.

Chicago, Dec. 28th, 1891.

Mrs. E. K. Tourgee,
Mayville, N. Y.

Dear Mrs. Tourgee:--

Your note of the 26th just received. I am glad the Judge is at home and I hope he will improve rapidly. When I received his note last Thursday evening I supposed he was still at the Grand Pacific and went over to invite him and the daughter to go out to our house and have a Christmas rest, if not a Christmas dinner. I found that he had escaped the invitation by going away at three o'clock. It seems too bad that the expedition to the far west was spoiled by sickness but as I know the best place for a sick man is at home I am glad he is at home. We missed a "Notion" last week and I hope the one you speak of will come in time. There was an inquiry from Mc Clurg & Co. last week for the book "John Workman's Notions". If the letters are to be published in book form and if the book is to be published soon it might be well for you to write Mc Clurg & Co. The compliments of the season to yourself, to the Judge and to the daughter.

Very Sincerely,

W. A. Busbey