My dear Comrade

Yours of 13th inst. recd.

From April until Sept. I found myself "out of a job." Visited the old home vicinity for two or three weeks, and passed the rest of my time at home, making some, and fixing things up around my home some. During this time, I was consulting and investigating as to the expediency of making an Atlas of Stark Co., in Aug. we organized and decided to publish one. On Sept 1. I entered upon my duties as Editor Manager. Found myself in business from the start; and did not feel I could, or ought to leave at the time of the reunion, that is why I was not there. I know there would be a good time in Y- and it would have been a great pleasure to me to take you by the hand once more, and to hear you speak to us old boys.

I enclose P.O.M.O. for $1.⁰⁰. Please send me two of your souvenirs, such a letter from Dickerman recently. He has got about as far away as dry land will allow of. and will not be likely to much with us at any time. I seldom see any of the 105th as there are few in this Co. & they are off in the N.E. corner where I do not often get. Self & wife are well and close, our son is at Delaware, O. University, and writes increasingly about football. He is large & stout & may distinguish himself and bring honor & renown to the Braden name. This is a glorious Oct day. I left home at 6.30 A.M. for the country to look after agents. Got back at 10. A.M. & having an hour or two at command before starting out again.
I write you, as the next best thing to seeing you in person. Good fortune attend you. Kindly remember me to Mrs. Tinsley & family. meantime I remain the same "old stick"

Your comrade

PROSPECTUS.

OFFICE OF

THE OHIO MAP AND ATLAS CO.

CANTON, OHIO, Sept. 1894.

To the Citizens of Stark County, Ohio.

The Ohio Map and Atlas Co., the members of which are residents of Stark County, recognize as a fact, that the many and great changes which have taken place in the twenty years that have passed since an Atlas of the county was given to the public, make the publication of a new county Atlas, a business necessity. In view of that necessity, this company proposes to publish a new and complete Atlas of Stark county. The Atlas will be in book form, 16x18 inches in size, with over 200 pages of maps and other matter pertinent to such a work, and will be substantially bound. It will be prepared in the best style of art, and the company will endeavor to present an Atlas worthy of the county it represents.

It will contain a map of the United States; a county map of Ohio; a Railroad map of the State; a Township map of the county; maps of the cities and villages of the county; maps of the different Townships, with school districts shown in colors; Railroads will be carefully traced and stations designated; Post offices noted by name; Roads and Highways traced with care, the course of streams shown, and farm boundaries carefully outlined and names of owners given.

There will also be given a table of distances in the county; one of distances in the State; Census tables; Postal rules; County and Township history; Statistics relating to manufacturers, crops, county and city indebtedness; also matter relating to education and schools; geology and soil of the county; a list of county officers from the organization of the county, and many other matters of interest to the people of the county.

The Atlas will be sold only by subscription, and no more will be published than are ordered.

Price of Atlas, $10.00.

Your patronage is respectfully solicited.

T. B. ALBERT, President.
A. C. BRANT, Vice President.
E. S. RAFF, Treasurer.
A. D. BRADEN, Secretary and Manager.
W. J. KAUFFMAN, Civil Engineer.
