Mayville, N. Y.

Dear Judge:--

Yours at hand enclosing check for one hundred dollars, for which we thank you. We will do our best to get the BASIS out on Saturday, earlier if it is a possible thing.

Now about the Book: The Table work is all up except a couple of pages--the last Table--seven. You have had all the proof except this last Table. Cannot you send us some of the long primer copy? The proofs of this Table #7 we will have to you in a couple of days. I know we have not much time in which to get out the book, but we can do it if we can have the copy now. As we understand it there is nothing which stands in the way now except this last Table of two or three pages---you have had proof of all the rest---and if you can possibly strain a point and get us started on the body of the book we can then rush it through, and meantime we will send you the other proof, but we know as well as you that every day counts.

Yours very truly,

A. D. McGerald
