My Dear Sir:-

I have just returned from a vacation trip to Ind. The Good Citizenship movement is the center of a wide spread interest there. I am curious to learn the extent of the above said movement with its origin & history and the different forms in which it appears. I have written for the data of the movement in Ind. I wish to write it up for some local papers to open the way for the formation of Good Citizenship Clubs. Perhaps you have printed material giving instructions as to the formation of such clubs. If so will you please send me a copy. Also if you have at hand material giving instructions upon the movement with which you are identified I would be pleased to receive it. Or perhaps you would rather give an article in Basis on the extent of the movement

If I get the data sufficient to enable me to climb the heights & find my horizon until it encloses the whole of the movement I will mail it up for somebody's columns but if you mail it for the Basis I <sup>can</sup> get my "strand" from that - If I get it elsewhere I may send you a short article -

When I read the article "Very Plain Words" I thought of Wendell Phillips' plea for confidence in humanity - and how impossible it is to lead to any standard of virtue when the leader has no confidence in the capacity or stability of those whom he would instruct.
Whenever the party is made pure by the people then it in turn will prove the Palladium of the government - But led by a corrupt and designing clique the party will fuddle the reasonable men of courage and endurance of its pretensions. If the course you are pursuing in this matter is not right then ethics must be divorced from citizenship -

I would be pleased to learn how much time I may yet expect before the manuscript of the Sermon will be required - Hoping that your health has been regained I am Very Truly Yours
Chas. C. Burleigh
