Hon A.W. Tourgee

Dear Sir,

I have had interviews with quite a number of real estate men this week. Some give encouragement to your idea, some do not, much as they happen to be feeling. I do not find many, however, who anticipate much activity in real estate for some months to come. Things are pretty quiet now. They say a magazine devoting some attention to the subjects contemplated would undoubtedly receive some support in the way of advertising and purchase.

of copies for mailing purposes. While so little outside business is done, however, the encouragement would not amount to so much as it might later.

Would you like to have me run down and see you some evening next week or are you to be in town?

In haste

Ed H. Brush.
