Dear Wifey -

All is still smooth and pleasant. We have had a preliminary meeting here today and there seems to be a remarkable unanimity of sentiment among the delegates. I have been working upon two preliminary committees and am one of the committees in regard to the procession on Monday. I am becoming acquainted with almost all the prominent delegates here. Judge Sherwood of Texas, invited me to his room today to hear the reading of his "Address". It is a noble document and affords a fine parallel to the hot passionate thing of Raymond in the

Mock Convention of July 14 - My room-mate is an old Army friend Col. Ashburn of Ga - There are but three delegates from N.C. here as yet. They have appointed me Chairman of the Delegation. How do you do today dear, I am anxious enough about you, although so very busy. I am in the Club room and it is now 12 o'cl - P.M. and I have been interrupted three times in writing this, and now here comes Judge Field to ask me to go and meet with the Committee on primary resolutions. For now or I have to attend committee at 9 - 12 & 3 o'cl - and resolutions to write and the basis of a speech to prepare Good night dear
 I am perfectly well - and you must not fear for me
