P.S. As matters & doings are at this time it appears as though Rebellion is rewarded, thus otherwise, when I look around and see those very men in power, who were & carried on the late Rebellion, and know by experience how they dominated over the dominant Union men as they called them, and to think what they would do, if they dare, is too much to bear if it could be otherwise, it really appears to me that we will have to reform in many ways or we will be all displaced in our world soon for better people, men in a general way will do & say any thing for self interest & allude to those engaged in the distillations of former particular at this time, when there are some who have not bread, and if they would pay their Rerimue, but they will not or do not pay any part of it, at the same time are making a good deal out of it, whilst honest men can't barely live. Another class is the present & past officials, they will receive anything or do anything with Power, yes the government may give them things if they but hold their grip, I look for no crises but the Lord only knows what that will be.
