

Seventh Judicial District of South Carolina,

JUDGE'S OFFICE,

A. W. TOURGEE,
Judge Superior Court.

~~Charleston~~ Ashboro Dec 1858

My dear wife:

I learn that Mr Mendenhall is about to start home and according to my promise will send you a note by him. Personally, I am in the very best possible condition and humor. Billy is in splendid spirits and Bruno ditto. They are now down in the stall together, alternately fouling and fighting with each other. Billy has played smash with the stalls, breaking down two and just driving the horses out of them next him. He has now, nothing left but to quarrel with Bruno. I broke my buggy yesterday and am having it mended now. I am going to ride with Miss Willie Buller this p.m. I was at B's last night and had a pleasant time.

I go to B B Buller's tonight. I hope you are having no unpleasant affairs in my absence. Mr M is writing of

Yours lovingly

A. W. Tourgee
