

usually
as large, long-sleeved
washed cham
This cham Mr Hayward prepared to take to his home in Brooklyn and take care of for one (un)feeling shaded damn it.

The cham sent as you will see does not in any manner answer to the description of the one I reached forburied.
Very truly
yours

The memory of the true and brave man you thus defame, is too precious to me to allow an hour to pass by without asking you to give at once as well publicity to the truth of this matter as you did to the falsehood.
