

GEO. W. HINMAN,
Editor and Publisher.

The Inter Ocean

SAMUEL S. SHERMAN,
Business Manager.

Editorial Department.

CHICAGO, June 13, 1906.

Mrs. Emma K. Tourgee,

Mayville, New York.

Dear Madam:

I am answering your letter to Mr. Busbey at his request, as he is at his home, sick. The advertisement you inclosed would cost $1.50, for one insertion in the Sunday Inter Ocean. It would be a display advertisement and would be with the hotels and resorts. The advertising department is of the opinion that such an advertisement might do you some good as they frequently have inquiries as to eastern resorts. They say, however, that a classified advertisement would do you no good at all.

Yours very truly,

(Miss) G. E. Millett,

THE INTER OCEAN.