

10073

FOUNDED 1880 BY A.O. BUNNELL

The Danville Advertiser.

A.O. BUNNELL, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

June 14, 1906.

Mrs. E. K. Tourgee,
The Thorheim,
Mayville, N. Y.

My Dear Mrs. Tourgee:--Yours of the 11th received. I am much gratified to know that my report of the dedication ceremonies was so satisfactory to you. I wish it could have been better. Five Hundred copies of the address of Mr. Moot printed in type like end closed sample but larger pages with cut of the Judge and Monument and bound in pamphlet form would cost about $27. Fewer numbers would cost less, but not very much, because half of the expense is in the setting of the type. It might be printed in smaller type, but if printed at all I should advise you to have it printed in the best style and on fine paper. I shall be very glad to do this for you and will make the charge as low as possible. I regret that I have no more Advertisers of last week. I had an order from Chicago for 32 copies that I could not fill. With kind regards to yourself and daughter I am, as always,

Sincerely yours,

A. O. Bunnell