Madam

Your letter of June 28-06 is at hand & contents noted. The Bill as sent you June 1-06 is all O.K. ^{except} one (1) item of $2.50 for vice which should have been credited back. It was charged to as a keep ~~up~~ a record of it.

When you were here & ^{ordered} purchased the Goods, I gave you a net Price of $42.25 on the articles & was to pay the freight on them. You wanted a price on the job plumbed in & I told you if I gave you such a price I should have to make my self safe as I could not lose any money. and said the best & only way was to put it in stock & there.

When you would pay for just what you had. & no more at that time you thought that was all right, or least you made no objection.

There is nothing charged up
but just what was needed.
~~To the~~

As to the time there was nearly 5 hours time consumed in going & coming plus carfare.

Plumbers charge for time
as soon as the leave the shop until they get back
It is an uncod Rule company

If trusting this explanation is satisfactory.

Remain yours Respt.
