Mrs. Albion W. Tourgee,
2015 Kalorama Road,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Madam:-

It is with no little regret that I am herewith returning "The Feet of the Young Men." It is an interesting and well told tale carrying with it, I think, all the evidence of the true art in story telling that the late Judge Tourgee possessed in so remarkable a degree. Unfortunately, for our uses, the plot is such as to render the story unavailable here. In fact, it may militate against its acceptance elsewhere, but the fact is notorious that there are many wolves in sheep's clothing, and that many a cleric has found his way into the penitentiary.

Of course, I am greatly obliged to you for giving me an option on this story, and should it so happen that you come upon any other bits of fiction among the writings of your lamented husband that you think would be available here, I shall be pleased to give them as prompt consideration as this has received. May I advise you, too, to keep this story traveling until it finds a medium of publication. So good a story ought not to be lost to the reading world.

Very truly yours,

Wm A Taylor
Editor.
