My dear Mrs. Fourgie:

Your letter of the 8th found me quite covered up & snowed under with school book affairs, & my assistant ill in hospital.

There have been some changes in the Baker & Taylor Co. & I suggest that you approach them on the question of reprinting "Bricks" & "Fools Errand."

They have disposed of the latest Editions, know the demand & have a place to keep the stock which I have not.

They can get an Estimate for printing coming to me for location of plate, etc.

This will be a way of getting them interested + I advise you to try it.

Write to Mr. Taylor The B & L Co. 33 E. 17th St, N.Y.

I would not touch upon your desire to get out an edition of all the Judge's books, but start with those which have a constant sale.

Sincerely yours

Fred J. Hulbert
