31 STATE STREET,

BOSTON, September 13, 1907.

Mrs. Emma K. Tourgée,
Maysville,
Chautauqua County, New York.

Dear Madam:-

I have your letter of September 5th enclosing Judge Tourgée's story entitled "The Feet of the Young Man". I have read it with interest but have come to the conclusion that it will be unavailable for publication. It seems to me that it would be more interesting to general readers than to the profession since the success of the lawyer in the story was based not upon ordinary legal methods but upon the exceptional one of hypnotism. I, therefore, return it herewith.

Yours sincerely,

S. R. Wrightington
