

Little, Brown, & Company,

254 Washington Street, Boston.

Publishers, Booksellers, and Importers of Law, and General Literature.

A

October 18, 1907

Mrs. Emma K. Tourgée,
Mayville,
Chautauqua Co., N. Y.

Dear Madam:

Your letter of Oct. 16, containing check for $50.00, is at hand. We are much obliged to you for sending us the letter we wrote to Messrs. Fords, Howard & Hulbert so long ago, and while of course we felt that we had a right to consider that the conditions were a little different, in view of the time that had elapsed, we are glad to accept your statement that this is not because of any fault of yours, but merely because Messrs. Fords, Howard & Hulbert did not receive your instructions. Under these circumstances we shall be pleased to transfer the plates to you for the sum received.

We will send the plates, as soon as possible, to the address given in your letter.

Yours very truly,

Little, Brown & Co.