HAMMOND, IND. Mar. 30, 1908.

Mr. William Penn Nixon,
Room 500, 125 LaSalle St.,
Chicago.

My dear Sir:

Yours of the 24th inst. regarding the plates of the book "The Veteran and His Pipe" I find before me on my return.

As I stated before, we have used this book only as a filler in the line, and if it is Mrs. Tourgee's desire, we will turn over the plates to her or you in consideration of a settlement of the matter.

It was certainly not our intention to do anyone an injustice as we have no end of other plates we could have been using just as well as this particular title.

I find we have no copies of the book on hand to speak of.

If you will kindly arrange the settlement, we will hold the plates subject to your order.

I think the lady's idea of not desiring to go into the hands of a lawyer or the law is a good one.

Thanking you for your kindness in the matter, believe me,

Yours very truly,

W. B. Conkey Pres't,
W. B. CONKEY COMPANY.

This letter was dictated by Mr. Conkey, but was not ready for his signature before he left the office.
