To the Secretary of the American Library Association,
New York City.

Dear Sir:

I am contemplating getting out new editions of my late husband's (Judge Albion W. Tourgee) two novels "A Fool's Errand" and "Bricks without Straw" which are now entirely out of print. It has been suggested that I ascertain from you as to the probable demand from libraries for these books. Also, I would like sent me if not too much trouble a list of the different libraries in the North and West as I have just put out a new edition of another of my husband's novels, "Button's Inn", which has been out of print for 10 years, but being a romance of the old stage-coach days in this region there was a great local demand for it now as this has become a popular route for tourists, the trolley-line from Tenestown at the foot of Lake Chautauqua to Lake Erie running past the site of the old Inn which we have marked by a sign calling attention to the book.

Any assistance you can give me will be greatly appreciated.

I am, Sir,

Very truly yours,
